CAMRA award for Red Lion

The Red Lion has been named Northants CAMRA pub of the season. The award recognises the hard work that landlord and landlady Kevin and Fiona Barby (pictured above with their award) have put into keeping and supplying real ales and supporting local breweries.

are leaving your car unattended - even for a minute - as this is all it takes for an opportunistic criminal to take advantage.

The local police have also issued a warning to be on your guard against a group of salesmen who have been seen in the area recently selling household goods door-to-door. Unfortunately, this group has been linked with burglaries in the areas they visit. To protect yourself and your home, if a salesman knocks on your door ask to see their ID and their Peddler's Certificate, issued by the local council. If you are in any way suspicious, contact the local Police straight away on their new number 03000 111222 (or 999 for emergencies) and, if you see a vehicle, take down the registration number.

Looking back in time

Alan Craxford from Tyneside visited Cottingham recently with his wife Judith to bring his family history to life. The Craxfords lived in Cottingham and Middleton from the early 19th Century and Alan is keen to tease out the complex interweaving relationships of several village families including Beadsworths, Bradshaws, Coles, Claypoles, Cranes and Tansleys. There is some fascinating information about the Cottingham Craxfords on Alan's website at www.craxford-family.co.uk (the red pages).

During their visit, Alan and Judith met up with Laurie and Irene Beadsworth from Corby Road, Cottingham. Laurie is Alan's second cousin and both are descended from great grandparents William and Sarah Craxford (nee Claypole). We think that the picture on the left may be of Sarah Craxford. If anyone can confirm one way or the other, please email Alan at alancrax@aol.com

Steve Jones from Australia has also traced his family's history back to Cottingham. Steve is planning to visit the village in August and is keen to make contact with descendants of the Tansley, Panter or Inkle families still living in the villages who are interested in family history. If you can help, please email sjones25@iprimus.com.au

Be on your guard

Four crimes have been reported in the villages from 20 April to 7 June, including graffiti on a wall at the top of Corby Road, theft from a driveway in Stonepit Drive and break-in to non-domestic premises on High Street. Also, a driver who left his engine running while delivering a package in Berryfield Road has had his vehicle stolen. A similar incident occurred in Darescroft earlier in the year and we would urge residents to be vigilant. Always lock your car, and never leave your keys in the ignition if you

What's On

Bip's Birthday Bash!

To celebrate his 60th birthday, Bip Wetherell is holding a garden bash at his home at 21 Ashley Road, Middleton LE16 8YP, from 2pm to 10pm to raise money for prostate cancer. Instead of gifts, Bip is asking guests to pay £15 to include a charity donation, wine on arrival, buffet and entertainment. Children are free and you are welcome to bring your own wine, beer, spirits, cool box etc.

Special guests include Colin Dexter (author of the 'Inspector Morse' stories and a former Cottingham resident) and local TV celebrity John Anderson who will be stepping out of the Gladiators' arena to referee some traditional garden games. You can play tennis on the tennis court, if you would like to join in and there will be live music from the 'Golden Boy of The Sixties' Jess Conrad, backed by the Telstars - namely Bip and Bob Gowen!

There will also be a raffle with some great items to auction so come along and enjoy what should be a cracking day. You can pay your £15 by sending a cheque to the above address or by credit/debit card by calling the Raven Hotel on 01536 202313 during office hours. Speak to Glen or Elaine. For more information, email Bip at bip.wetherell@virgin.net
